A deed has been filed in the Hancock county courthouse of a transfer of all the holdings of the E-Z Opener Bag Company to the Gulf States Corporation, which was signed June 13. This transfer of property represents approximately 5,000 acres of land in Hancock county, distributed in various sections and involves very valuable holdings. Mortgage Recorded.

An indenture securing $2,500,000, first mortgage, at 6 1/2 per cent for fifteen years, sinking fund gold bonds, was from the Gulf States Corporation to the Canal Bank and Trust Company of New Orleans, and C. F. Nicholson, trustees, was signed June 13, and recorded at the clerk's office at the Hancock county courthouse June 15.

This mortgage required sixty-two typewritten pages in the large record books to file. It sets forth certain holdings of the company in Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana, including machinery in Louisiana.

BAY CITY RETIRES SIDEWALK NOTES IN BIG SUMS TO BANK

The city of Bay St. Louis, through its mayor and commissioners at their Monday morning meeting, ordered the payment to the Hancock County Bank of Bay St. Louis a total of $11,480.11, of which $10,934.12 is principal and $545.99 is interest, for the retirement of the sidewalk certificates of indebtedness held by the bank. The resignation of Albert Monti as water works foreman to take place July 1, was received and accepted with regret by the commissioners. Emil Adams, Jr., was appointed to fill the position of water works foreman, to take effect July 1.

The board voted to accept the sidewalk constructed before the property of E. S. Drake by W. D. Hays.

Retreat Will Open Next Friday Evening and Close Monday Morning.

A retreat for Catholic laymen of the State of Mississippi will begin in Bay St. Louis, at St. Stanislaus college, Friday evening of next week, June 29th, 7:30 o'clock, and close the following Monday morning, July 2nd, Rev. Frederick I. MacDonnell, S. J., writer and lecturer, will be in charge. Thomas A. McKenna, State deputy, Knights of Columbus, says, "Every man needs a retreat—it gives him an opportunity to get away from his usual cares and distractions so that he can better check up on his spiritual status."

The following information has been given out in a letter and will prove of interest to those of whom as yet have not decided to embrace this unusual opportunity and wish details.

"Particulars relative to rooms, meals, etc.—When you arrive at Bay St. Louis don't go to the hotel. Come direct to St. Stanislaus College, register your name and Brother Peter will assign you to sleeping quarters. Meals will be served at the college. It will not be necessary to wish for anything during the Retreat. Your wants will be taken care of. There will be a box in the hall and any time during this Retreat, should you choose, you may drop your donation for room and board. No one can see what you give; nor will anyone know who gives and who does not give. If you feel you are not able to give, remember you are welcome just the same. We want you to make this Retreat."

Rev. R. G. Orow, Bishop of Natchez, says, "not only endorse this movement for a laymen's retreat, but I give it my blessing and my hearty encouragement."

VETERAN, 80, PASSES TO BEYOND

Marion Francis Baxter, Well Known Hancock Countian, Laid to Rest at Logtown.

Marion Francis Baxter, 80, passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Weston at Logtown, Monday, 1 o'clock, and was buried at Logtown with Masonic honors Tuesday afternoon, 3 o'clock, the Diamond Lodge No. 393 of Logtown officiating. Mr. Baxter had been suffering from heart disease and had been ill for the past month. He had been at the home of Mrs. Weston for the past ten days.

Mr. Baxter was one of the best known and most highly respected citizens of this community, having resided here since a child, coming with his parents from South Carolina, his native state. When the war between the States broke out he went with the Twentieth Mississippi regiment and had a record of bravery. For 20 years Mr. Baxter was superintendent of the Pointe-aux-Fayes Sawmill company, of Pearl River. He has served the community in which he lived as justice of the peace and as notary public. He was a life long communicant of the Methodist church and a member of the Masonic bodies.

For about two years Mr. Baxter has made headquarters at Jefferson Davis Memorial Soldiers Home, spending much time with his children and their families. He was married twice, his second wife surviving him. He is survived by five daughters and three sons, all offsprings of the first marriage, thirteen grand children and five great grand children. OLDEST DRUG STORE IN CITY KEEPING PACE WITH MODERN TREND

Interior of L. A. de Montluzin Son Drug Store Remodeled and Modernized.

New glass show cases, new arrangements of the interior of the store, new floor covering, new shelves, a refrigeration plant for the keeping of ice cream, a new electric sign, are some of the features of the remodeling and improvement of the de Montluzin Drug Store, the oldest firm in Bay St. Louis.

Much of the remodeling has been accomplished. The refrigeration plant for the ice cream has been ordered and is expected daily. The electric sign should be placed in position in a short time.

This history of this story reads as a fascinating romance. It was founded in 1878 by L. A. de Montluzin, a native of Alsace-Lorraine, who located his store on Main street near the site of the present postoffice. Later it was moved to the Beach some short distance to the north of its present location. The store was burned out once. The present store building was moved from the former site on the beach to its present location near the L. & N. railroad track 37 years ago.

The present owner of the de Montluzin store, Rene de Montluzin, Sr., with his brother, the late J. A. de Montluzin, who passed away in February of this year, were engaged in business with their father and the firm receives its name from this partnership. L. A. de Montluzin & Sons, Rene de Montluzin, Sr., is a pharmacist and handles the drug end of the business. He is assisted in the store by his wife, whose courteous salesmanship is a charm of the store. His son, Rene de Montluzin, Jr., is now a student at St. Stanislaus college where he will finish next year. He will attend Tulane University where he will probably take the pharmacy course and prepare to come to the firm with his father, continuing the fine old standards of the store.

The total contract for the entire construction of the school was $28,580.36 and was awarded as follows: Heating to Hamilton Bros. & Co. of Gulfport, $2,248; plumbing to Weaver & Conn. of Gulfport, $1,250; roofing and sheet metal work to Alonzo B. Some months ago the Pineville school district voted $30,000 bonds for the construction of the new school which will be of brick and tile construction and plans for which were drawn by Vinson Smith and E. E. Norwood, associate architects of Gulfport, who have also drawn plans for several Bay St. Louis places, including the Chas. G. Moreau home and the E. J. Gex home, contract for which was recently let. The building will include six class rooms, an auditorium, principal's office, library and lavatories. Work will begin immediately.

C. GREER MOORE TO SUCCEED S. F. GENTRY, RESIGNED, AS SECY

Secretary of Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce to Seek Other Fields.

At a regular meeting, Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, S. F. Gentry, efficient secretary, tendered his resignation, taking effect at once, as same had been prepared some time since, and only awaited a regular meeting for acceptance, which was reluctantly done.

Mr. Gentry, who came here two years since from Crystal Springs, Miss., came to the Coast to get acquainted and to seek new fields of endeavor. Having decided here over that period of time he decided to enter into other lines, seeking work along lines which will bring into new and different fields.

To fill the unexpired time C. Greer Moore, well-known local resident, was elected secretary protem, and assumed the duties of his office the next morning, and to occupy the same location in the Masonic Temple, with Miss Mathilde Ladner as stenographer.

HENRY W. OSOINACH IS FINE SPEAKER.

Henry W. Osoinach, well-known young citizen, was principal speaker before Bay St. Louis Rotarians and others at the regular luncheon Wednesday noon at Weston hotel. His subject was "Rotary Education," and his point was to the effect just how much one put into Rotary that amount of benefit he would receive in return, if not more. He quoted freely from the classics and told of anecdotes that were fitting. In all it was a fine address ably delivered and its construction in such sequence as to render it all the more a finished product.

Young Osoinach is not only an exemplary citizen and civic worker to be commended but his spirit and activities should be an inspiration to other young men.

ROTARY TO INSTALL OFFICERS AT CLERMONT HARBOR.

Approximately one hundred children, between the ages of 2 and 6, of the Bay St. Louis school district were examined Wednesday and Thursday at the summer round-up conducted under the auspices of the Bay St. Louis Parent-Teacher association at the Hancock county courthouse, with Dr. C. M. Shipp, county health officer, in charge of the examinations. Dr. Shipp was assisted in the holding of the examinations by Dr. John W. A., aided by a large committee of the members, were present throughout the examination period, aiding the doctors and nurses, greeting the parents who brought their children for the examination and assisting in the transportation of children to the courthouse.

Records of all examinations, showing the physical defects, were made and from these results will be tabulated by the committee and given to the press in a few days.

Dr. Gay will discuss law enforcement and the prohibition situation of the country.

The State W. C. T. U. is most interested in having new Unions formed in various sections of the State to carry forward the message and mission of the "white ribbon," and it is primarily for the purpose of organizing in the Bay that Dr. Gay is at this time. All women of the city who are interested in furthering the prohibition work are urgently requested to be present at the lecture.

"Dove"—"La Paloma"

Throughout the United States, Norma Talmadge's next picture, which comes to the A. & G. theatre Sunday night Monday, will be known as "The Dove." But France will see this United Artists production as "La Colombe"—Spain and Italy as "La Paloma"—Germany and Austria as "Die Taube."

In Japan all the kissing scenes in "The Dove" will be cut out and sent out as in the entire Japanese empire, lovers do not kiss each other. It would simply not be understood. The kissing scenes in American movies are always cut before films are sent to Japan, for the Japanese think kissing is immoral.

EUGENE FLY, of Gulfport.

Few men who collect money for worthy objects are given banquets.

Life always offers two chances and the individual takes the pick.

A lot of politicians want to find the man who put the "over" in Hoover.

Nobody ever feels quite as important as a politician in a series of "conferences."

Some people have forgotten that there are books written that are worth reading.

The Southern Cross plans to continue its flights around the world. We wish it success.

Our idea of a joke is a man who belongs to no church talking about the failure of the churches.

The sweet young things are not as smart as they think they are. Most men see through them.

The hot wave makes us feel like hunting up the man who was yelling for the good old summertime.

If you want to help Bay St. Louis help yourself. Be a good citizen. That is all the job that is yours.

A contributor asks who put the "wimmin" in swimming. (If the reader has a query send it in.)

Parents should caution their children advisedly; too much talk of this kind will make them cowardly.

When two men meet to trade it is good to see them smile. One of them won't do it again for a while.

Those who have stuck to it are about ready to enjoy their gardens. The rest of us will buy what we can get.

The world has two classes of citizens: Those who work for money and those who are too lazy to work for anything.

Readers of this newspaper are invited to send in their comments. Make your letters short and keep away from personalities.

Correct this sentence: "I'm just an unimportant cog in the machine. Don't offer me anything; give the jobs to the deserving boys."

Candidates have two ways of answering attacks. One is to call the other man a "liar" and the other is to talk about something else.

To be the most important man in any group, you have got to be fool enough to appeal to the foolish and wise enough to fool the wisest.

What the people of one state know about the people of the other states is not to be spoken of in the same breath with what they don't know about them.

There are authors who say that the average American is a moron. There are average Americans who say that some authors are morons. The score is a tie.

Subscriptions paid up in the month of June insure the reader of a delightful summer. He can even read this column without finding anything that looks like a hint or hit at him.

Every lot-owner in Bay St. Louis, regardless of the cash prizes, can do a perceptible part in making this town attractive. Nothing increases the prestige within a community as much as pride in its appearance.

If there is a local citizen who does not believe in advertising we invite him to write down, immediately after reading this the names of ten products, nationally sold, that are not well advertised, but are on sale in Bay St. Louis.

EDISON DESERVES HONOR.

The majority of American people will take pleasure in the recent act of Congress granting a Medal of Honor to Thomas A. Edison, in recognition of his work in the field of electrical invention. While Congress, through an oversight, failed to appropriate the money for the medal, it is presumed that a way will be found to overcome this and have the medal ready for presentation this fall.

Mr. Edison has achieved great things in his line and they have meant much more to the average citizen of the United States than is realized by most of us. An intense worker, unlimiting in pains and expenses, he has patiently and systematically explored the field of electrical contrivances and developed many important contributions to the life of the people of Bay St. Louis.

As a sort of intelligence test how many readers of this article can name five inventions of Mr. Edison, which have been commonly used by most of us?

CONCERNING VACATIONS.

The head of the house knows by this time that vacations are the expected events in summer. Father, whether the head of the house, or merely the animated check-book, has received definite instructions and knows what his part in the play is to be. If lucky he may have been included in the wife and children's idea of a vacation.

Just what benefit it may be to a man to take one of these alleged "rests" that appeal to those who want to go where there is "life" has not yet been scientifically established. Pioneering husbands and fathers may study the reactions this summer.

COLORFUL PERSONALITIES AND THINGS AT THE CONVENTION.

Next Tuesday, the twenty-sixth! That is the date toward which everyone at Houston and elsewhere, as well, is looking, for on that date the Democratic National convention opens its doors.

Many will be the colorful personalities taking part in the sessions. Of course, there will be Clem Shaver with his gavel. And everyone looks forward to the keynote speech of the brilliant Claude G. Bowers.

Bowers, a New York editorial writer, historian and editor, attracted great attention by his address at the last Jackson Day dinner, which is considered a masterpiece. It is believed this speech led to his selection as the keynoter. It was beautifully written, effectively delivered. Everyone is sure Bowers will surpass himself at the convention.

Of color there will be a superabundance. And writers galore! Here will be the discovery of many brilliant reporters and writers of the future. Men and women who are in the cub class; in the embryo. The convention will in itself be colorful, and here will be many reporters possibly who will experience their metamorphosis. For it is the master event, an outstanding occasion which serves as the vehicle, and color, why, there will be plenty of it to dash and splash. In comparison the Kansas City convention will be as tame as a dying kitten. But let us get back to our colorful personalities.

Senator Robinson is expected to be extremely active at the convention, and New York's bright, well-dressed Mayor Walker, a brilliant, shining personality if ever there was one, is expected to put real "pop" into the proceedings.

William G. McAdoo will be there, and will, it is believed, play a prominent part. And then all will be greeted at Houston by Jesse H. Jones, Houston philanthropist, financier and publisher, who became the hero of the city when he led the fight to have it selected for the convention. Jones has thrown his hat in the ring, too, as a favorite son of Texas. He is a warm personal friend of our townsman, Wisner, and J. N. will return with intimate knowledge not only of the convention but of Jones, the millionaire newspaper publisher.

Other convention personalities will include, among many, John Taggard, "Big Bill" Brennan and Governor Moody of Texas. Senator Heflin, the prominent orator, one of the most forceful fighters in politics, is expected there, too.

A JOB FOR BAY ST. LOUIS.

Bay St. Louis will probably never be as large as New York. As a manufacturing center there are cities that will always surpass it. As a pleasure resort for retired business men it may not appeal. Nevertheless, there is one field in which Bay St. Louis can, and should, be supreme.

There are living in Bay St. Louis some 5,000 people. They have made it their home. Here they live their lives, raise their families and have their being. Now, in all reason, the making of Bay St. Louis into the finest place for them to live is one object worthy of serious thought.

Consider, if you will, the children of Bay St. Louis. They deserve the serious attention of adults. For them the older citizens should willingly plan great advances, constantly improving the facilities of the town for their uses. Just as the greatest object in life of the average man or woman is the care and proper development of children, for whom they would attempt much, so the greatest end in view for Bay St. Louis is to assist its citizens in life's great endeavor.

Why should we go crazy over size and industrial development? Is life composed alone of these features? Can a town be great in no other manner? Surely, the development of a friendly, neighborly spirit and the prevalence of the helping hand to all worthy citizens is an object that merits our real endeavor.

PREPARING FOR EMERGENCY.

Drowning of a 12-year-old girl at Pass Christian Monday was deplorable in the extreme and lends a pall of lasting impression. The young girl had ventured not too far out, it appears, but the facts as we gather them is to the effect she was a victim of one of depressions caused by recent dredging operations.

A message was dispatched to Gulfport at once for the public pulmotor which came in due time, but the fatal handicap was found in the fact there was nothing at hand to drag the bottom of the water in search of the body, which was finally found two hours and twenty minutes later, while the pulmotor had reached there in possibly sufficient time for resuscitation.

Bay St. Louis, with its pulmotor, purchased through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce, would be of proportionate little use were the same conditions to exist in like emergency. This fact was brought forth to the attention of the Bay St. Louis Rotary club Wednesday by Bro. Peter, and that body at once appointed Grady Perkins a committee of one to provide for a trawl line or something similar to be used in case of emergency and in connection with use of the pulmotor.

The subject is timely, especially at this time of the year, and Bro. Peter and the Rotary club are to be commended for their thoughtfulness and prompt action.

TURNING BACK A TOWN.

Everything modern about Williamsburg, Va., is to be cleared away and more than one hundred Colonial structures rebuilt, according to careful plans, which contemplate the entire restoration of this historic town, rich in lore about Revolutionary celebrities.

Settled in 1632 Williamsburg subsequently became the capital of Virginia and the scene of many stirring events. The town now possesses, it is said, more than forty buildings which were standing when the Declaration of Independence was read. Modernism has intruded, perhaps, less than anywhere else.

That this town will be recreated for the benefit of modern citizens rests largely from the enthusiasm of Rev. W. A. R. Goodwin, a professor at William and Mary College, who devoted years to a study of the town during Colonial days and eventually interested John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in the bold project of restoration. Mr. Rockefeller has announced that he will provide the amount of money that is needed, estimated between four and five million dollars.

HYDROPHOBIA.

Mad dog scares continue to occur throughout the country. Last week a New York town reported that ten persons were bitten by one dog, which was killed. From other states come similar news items.

Hydrophobia is too terrible to be lightly dismissed. It is horrible to contemplate. Everywhere precautions should be taken. Dogs should be inoculated or muzzled. Undertaken, unowned curs should, we believe, be dispatched, unless some one will properly care for them.

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(Copyright, 1927)

H. Z. Mitchell's "Sentinel" at Bemidji, Minn., wins the prize as best weekly in the National Editorial contest. This is a good time to remind the public in general, and national advertisers in particular, that country weekly newspapers are the most important organs of public opinion and protectors of public welfare.

And their advertising value, per mill line, is not excelled by any publication of any kind.

The reader of a country weekly buys everything, from shingles on the roof to fence in the cellar floor, and every advertiser has in him a possible customer.

What is the matter with our children? Not much, but a great deal is the matter with some parents.

The police are hunting for a little girl, ten years old, invited to go to a party by a plausible man, fifty-eight years old. The child did not know him, but the parents said, "Certainly." Off she went in the stranger's car, and that's the last seen of her.

Every public school should have an annex with the sign over the door: "Primary Common Sense for Parents."

Miss O'Brien, adventurous young explorer, returns to St. Paul, Minn., disappointed in the African pygmies. She shot all kinds of game, endured all kinds of hardship and says Africa is all right for a woman, but a little too rough for a man.

"The pygmies are darling little creatures," says she, "but I had to teach them to act wild." She wanted moving pictures of them.

Many American girls could teach any pygmy to act wild, and do so.

Fiji Islanders, bushy haired, active, gave a warm welcome to the monoplane Southern Cross, landed at Suva.

Those Fijians once had an annoying habit of eating wild men. This time they only chewed them. The fliers have beaten all records, including Lindbergh's long distance flight over water. It is 5,538 miles of ocean from Oakland, California, to Suva, Fiji Islands, via Hawaii.

The next hop, 1,700 miles, will take the fliers to Brisbane, Australia, on the way to Sydney. The world is really flying.

The 250 Islands, about eighty of them inhabited, belong to old grandmother Britannia. She rarely overlooks anything.

When young people that now read this column get their around-the-world flying machines they may find chances to grow up with the country on some of those uninhabited, unexplored Fiji Islands.

Crops in the corn belt have taken an upward turn. The Arkansas River Valley reports, "Wheat will make thirty-five bushels to the acre."

All that is cheerful for the Republican candidate.

Nothing mels irritation on the farms like good rains, good crops, good prices.

George Bernard Shaw, becoming less important and less accurate after seventy, declares that accumulated money is the root of all evil.

Without accumulated money Niagara Falls wouldn't be harnessed, the Panama Canal, which helps Britain as much as it does us, wouldn't be dug; automobile production wouldn't be on a quantity basis and this country would have, perhaps, 240,000 expensive automobiles, instead of 24,000,000 inexpensive automobiles.

Great accumulations of capital, like great accumulations of water going down hill, represent power.

Eliminate accumulated capital, and you would eliminate possibilities of higher civilization.

If the people haven't brains enough to watch and control accumulated capital they wouldn't have enough to control small capital.

DR. FRANK CRANE

(For The Sea Coast Echo)

THE MAN WHO KEEPS HIS WORD
It is like the shadow of a great rock in a weary land to run across, as we do occasionally, a man who keeps his word.

You may be able to sue on written promises and contracts put in writing, which are usually binding, but somehow the man who does not keep his word strictly is a slipper customer and it is hard to get hold of him, even with a piece of writing.

The fundamental security for a man doing what he promises is, after all, character.

A man who is in a position to lend him money than if he gives you a mortgage on his farm. Doing business with a liar is never satisfactory. Somehow he will attempt to wriggle out of his promises.

It is easy to detect the strictly honest person. When he owes you money he does not avoid you, but openly and frankly pays you something on account right along, if he cannot pay the whole amount.

The test of the fundamentally honest man is his punctuality in meeting his engagements or in frankly explaining to you why those engagements cannot be met.

The courts are full of people trying to evade their plain engagements. A man who is in debt sincerely tries to meet that debt, whether it hurts him or not. It is very trying and very disturbing to our faith in human nature to find a person who is always looking for alibis, always seeking explanations for not doing as he said he would.

The good loser, the man who loses and yet is cheerful is the man who is after all one of the chief pillars of the social fabric.

"Pay those taxes," ordered Judge M. M. Smith, Tylertown. "Come an' git 'em," answered M. L. Ratcliff, McComb barber. Judge Smith came, got the taxes; also a mashed nose and a bruised jaw. Up before another judge, Ratcliff pleaded, was pardoned.

BOXED BOLL WEEVILS—

Bryan Andrews, Yazoo county, thinks horned toads have little on him, but weevils when it comes to living under adverse circumstances. Andrews caught six weevils, sealed them tight in a half-filled snuff box. Five days later he opened the box, found them frisky, able to fly.

I. C. SOMERSAULT—

Picking along in the dark at 50 miles an hour, crowded with college students and instructors, "Bilbo," I. C. motor car, came suddenly upon a washout near Oxford. Screeching brakes could not stop a somersault, a crash. From the wreck were removed 32 injured, no dead.

GOOSE GRASS—

Waddling down long rows, pecking grass, 50 geese keep cotton fields clean on the farm of Ab Farr at Hickory Flat. Says Farmer Farr, "They like the grass so well they don't bother the cotton and I sell enough goose feathers to pay for their upkeep."

TRUSTWORTHY TRUSTY—

When four prisoners broke jail at Holly Springs, Dave Talley, trusty, went with them. Two days later he knocked at the jail door, turned over to officers the most dangerous of the jail breakers, apologized that he was able to bring back no more.

GOOD GRAB—

Dragged several hundred yards through the woods by a runaway mule in whose harness he had become entangled, Mitchell Martin, Carroll county sufferer of skinned shins, a bruised back, cracked ribs, Martin saved himself by grabbing a passing tree, holding so fast that the harness broke.

REAL REBEL—

John Burton, ex-Confederate of Benton county, still is, says he'll always be a rebel. As proud as his peerless Southern progenitors, Uncle John, though 103, will accept no pension from the U. S., which once he fought.

HARD HEAD—

Hit on the head so hard that his skull was fractured, Ross Perkins, Hattiesburg negro, didn't know he was hurt. Conversing calmly with friends after the fight in which he received the blow, Perkins appeared in no pain, but suddenly fell, died.

END OF THE ROPE—

A rope holding heavy logs, was strained taut. Near by stood L. B. Moore, Phoenix farmer. The rope snapped. A loose end flicked toward Farmer Moore's neck, hit so hard that it severed his windpipe.

PIERRE ON RAMPAGE—

Copiah county farmers, seated atop their houses, saw scores of cows and chickens drowned and acres of corn and cotton washed away as flood waters from Bayou Pierre flowed over their fields last week. Nine inches of rain turned the small Mississippi tributary into a torrent.

ANOTHER LAKE—

McComb, which has one big lake, wants another, will build it. The new lake will cover 103 acres, cost $75,000, contain a good stock of fish.

POTAMATO—

Luther B. Bank must look to his laurels now that G. C. Campbell, Raymond, has grafted a tomato top on a potato stalk, grown tomatoes above the ground, potatoes under it. Farmers wonder if such a practice can be made practical enough to be profitable.

COAL YET, MAYBE—

Laurel was elated last week over the announcement that a large ledge of lignite, first stage in the formation of coal, had been discovered in a limestone cave near that city.

TRANSFER 400—

A small army in striped uniforms will be added to that already on the state penal farm at Parchman when the U. S. sends 400 negro convicts from crowded prisons at Leavenworth and Atlanta to finish their terms in Mississippi.

In Nature's Hands.

Everybody, more or less, is in the hands of nature, but farmers in particular depend more upon the great forces of nature than any other one class.

Good farming methods and practices to a very large extent are responsible for success or failure on the farm, but the vagaries of nature make the life of the farmer trying.

Nature—with all her beauty, power and untold wealth—is at times a despotic and cruel ruler. Smiling, by she may bring the promise of good crops and an abundant harvest, only to turn about and in a few moments of relentless fury totally destroy what it has taken months to produce.

Four gold medals were awarded to children in the R. W. Taylor school, at the grade school of the first ward, at the recent closing of the school, two medals being given for scholarship and two for attendance. The two scholarship medals were donated by George Pitcher and were won by Henrietta Bourgeois of the fourth grade and Van Adams of the third grade. The attendance medals were given by Mrs. W. W. Stockstill, principal, and were awarded to Iva Randolph of the fourth grade and Abbie Bourgeois of the third grade.

A handsome fountain pen, donated by Mrs. C. W. Collins, was awarded to Homer Carmichael for the best average in examinations. The entire school session at the Taylor school was quite successful and the two teachers, Mrs. Stockstill, principal and teacher of the third and fourth grades, and Miss Winnie Lee King of Gulfport, teacher of the primary grades, are delighted with the results of the year's work.

The school boasts an excellent Parent Teacher association with every family which is a patron of the school represented in the membership. The treasurer's report for the year includes twenty-six members enrolled. A total of $63.33 was collected during the year and $56.95 was spent during the year for the school, leaving $6.38.

The teachers express their thanks and appreciation to all members of the P. T. A. for the hearty co-operation accorded them and the school during the past session.

ROTARIANS ERECT SIGNS

Four attractive new signs have been erected by the Pass Christian Rotary club to welcome visitors and invite them to partake of the weekly luncheon held each Tuesday at the Miramar hotel. The signs were made by Robert M. Brown, local painter and sign maker, and are erected on the Beach Boulevard at the eastern limits of the city, at Henderson Point where the Old Spanish Trail turns north to the Bay of St. Louis bridge, at the entrance to Pine Hills club and in front of the Miramar hotel. The committee in charge of placing the signs included E. A. Lang, G. R. O'Brien and R. J. Delpit.

COAST TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

The Coast Tennis association will hold its annual tournament July 21 to 29, with the finals played on the Hotel Miramar court July 29, Miss Anna Louise Liversedge, of the Pass, president of the organization, announced. Anyone interested may enter the tournament from any part of the Coast and registration will be received until July 20, 6 p.m., and places will be drawn for at 8 o'clock that night. Singles, doubles and mixed doubles will be played with state rules governing the play. Matches may be played on any court of the Coast provided they are played before an official referee.

OPPOSE USE OF ROADS FOR FREIGHT.

The Pass Christian city council passed an ordinance last week prohibiting the operation of any motor freight vans, motor trucks or other motor vehicles from transporting or delivering freight on Front street, Pass Christian, between Bordeaux avenue and Esby avenue, the west and east limits of the city, and on Second street between Henderson avenue and Menze avenue. This ordinance was drawn by Lieutenant Governor Bidwell Adam at the request of the city council and was unanimously passed by that body.

The purpose of this ordinance was to restrict the use of the paved streets of the city from the heavy freight trucks which have been operating over them, and which are thought to be detrimental to the roads because of the heavy loads carried.

The penalty for violation of this ordinance was fixed at $25 minimum and $50 maximum fines. City policemen and marshal were authorized to notify all freight truck drivers to take a copy of the ordinance, take name of driver and number of truck and upon a violation arrest.

A route which freight trucks might travel without violating the ordinance was laid out by the street commissioner, J. B. Smith. Lieutenant Governor Adam announced that he would personally appear before the state railroad commission June 25, to protest against the granting of permission by that body to freight trucks to operate over the main trunk lines of the Coast counties.

REGETTA TO BE HELD JULY 12 AND 13

The Pass Christian Yacht club met last week for the purpose of formulating plans for the Twenty-first annual regatta to be held July 12 and 13 on the course in front of the club. Increased membership for the club is sought and members are working on this among the sportsmen of the summer colony.

A committee was appointed, headed by L. H. Barksdale, commodore, and including Guy Northrop, Frank P. Wittman and Bernard Knost, to solicit funds to defray the expenses of the regatta.

Kiln Lumberjacks vs. Lakeshore Mud Hens.

The Kiln Lumberjacks defeated the Lakeshore Mud Hens Tuesday by the overwhelming score of 11-3. Elus Burke, formerly of Mississippi A. & M., returned to the box for the Lumberjacks and hurled the greatest game of his career. The lanky Lumberjack kept the visitor's hit well scattered, issuing but one free pass during the contest.

Each team secured eight hits, the Lumberjacks bunting their hits, which resulted in their runaway victory. Henry Walker, who is considered one of the best hot corner men in this section, romped off with the hitting honors of the day. The hard-hitting infielder secured a home run, three bagger and single in three trips to the platter. "Mogie" Haas, who precedes Walker in the batting order to form the "two big Berthas" of the local lineup, continued his hard hitting also.

Score by innings:
Kiln 301 051 001—11
Lakeshore 002 001 000—3
Batteries—Kiln, Burke and Bontempts; Lakeshore, Crysell and Green. Umpire, Dandridge; scorer, Lavender.

FLAT TOP COMMUNITY IS LIVE AND ACTIVE IN CONSTRUCTION WORK

Community and Home Demonstration Club Members Hear Picayune Speaker.

The monthly meeting of the Flat Top Community club was held Thursday night at the school building with a large attendance. A matter of interest was the appointment of a board of control for the new telephone line into the community which had been fostered by the Community club and the Women's Home Demonstration club. The six owners of the phones and one lady from the Demonstration club and one man from the Community club were named on the board of control which was instructed to formulate rules and regulations regarding the use of the phones. These phones were to be placed on the walls Monday and ready for connections and use this week.

H. I. Harris, formerly principal of the Sellers Consolidated school and now connected with the Pearl River Bank in the extension department, was present and made an interesting talk pledging his aid and co-operation to the people of the community in their projects.

The motion picture machine was put into use to show a picture and to show slides of songs which were joined in by all present.

F. B. Pitman, president, gave a talk on the work of the club.

At the close of the program a social hour was enjoyed during which refreshments were served.

Give Play.

The play presented at Flat Top school Saturday night by members of the Women's Home Demonstration club was fully enjoyed by the large number present. The fun and humor of the various parts were well brought out by the cast of actors. The proceeds were devoted to the club fund.

By Edgar S. Wilson

Jackson, Miss., June 20.—It is estimated that several thousand Mississippians will attend the National Democratic Convention which convenes in Houston on June 26 to nominate Democratic standard-bearers for president and vice-president. Many of them will go by automobile and others by train. It is said that demand for convention tickets is unprecedented, which grows out of the fact, perhaps, that this National Democratic convention is being held so near to Mississippi.

The national committeeman, Hon. Stone Deavours, of Laurel, and the national committeewoman, Mrs. Daisy McLaurin Stevens, of Brandon, will receive as do other national committeemen and committeewomen, a very limited number of tickets. The eight delegates from the state at large will each receive two tickets and their alternates one each. The eight district delegates will each receive two tickets and their alternates a ticket each. Some of the delegates will take their wives with them. So it will be seen that the source of ticket supply is very meager.

It has been the custom for the National Democratic Executive Committee to give the local arrangement committee in charge of providing convention halls and the like in the cities where the convention meets, admission tickets which are sold by such committee and the proceeds used to help defray the expenses incident to the holding of national conventions.

The cornerstone of the new capitol was laid June 3, 1903, the birthday of Jefferson Davis. Two great speeches were delivered. One by Bishop Charles Betts Galloway and the other by Chief Justice J. R. Whitfield, both of whom have passed to their reward full of honors. Many historical documents are contained in the box which went into the cornerstone of the new capitol. The new capitol was built under the administration of Governor A. N. Hayne, without graft, without scandal, without the issuance of bonds, though bonds were authorized, and within the contract time.

History is vague as to the exact date of the laying of the cornerstone of the old capitol. It is certain, however, that it was laid during the year

1835, and was witnessed by people from far and near. Uncle Joe Ferguson, for many years the circuit clerk of Rankin county, and long mayor of Brandon, was present and told me, when I was a boy, that among the things placed in the corner stone was a bottle of very fine whisky. The old capitol was occupied in 1839 by the legislature before it was finished. It cost some four hundred thousand dollars.

After the new capitol was occupied in September, 1903, the old capitol was abandoned and became the habitat of cats, owls and rats. During the first Bilbo administration, beginning 1916 and ending 1920, the old capitol was renovated at a cost of $125,000, with the use of a limited number of convicts as laborers, and so splendid and honest was the work done, according to Theodore C. Link, the architect of the new capitol, also the architect of the renovation of the old capitol, that the old capitol was made better than new and could not be duplicated now for half a million dollars. Mississippi is one of three states in the Union which have two state capitol buildings, the other two being Massachusetts and Arkansas.

The men and women of Mississippi who paid their poll tax and failed to register, must register at least four months prior to the Congressional election which takes place Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1928, otherwise they can not participate in primary elections. On August 21, for supreme court judge, a United States senator, congressman and highway commissioner. Those men and women who will become twenty-one years of age on or before the date of the election next November may vote in the primary, provided they register four months prior to the election.

The progress being made by Mississippi, thanks to a devoted and able weekly and daily press, seems to be challenging the wonder and admiration of the people of other states. Mississippi continues to build more highways and better highways; condensaries, cranes and cheese plants continue to come; manufacturing plants of all kinds are seeking location; and there seems to be a universal and determined purpose everywhere to suppress forest fires and help nature take its course.

Celebrate Triple Event With Fifty-Five Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Boudin entertained an unusually large number of guests, numbering fifty-five, principally out of New Orleans, celebrating a triple event, namely the graduation of Miss Lois Hobbs, St. Joseph's Academy; graduation of Mr. Ernest Baron, St. Stanislaus Academy; and the cutting of the wedding cake in further celebration of the wedding a week previously of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Baron. Miss Hobbs, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hobbs, of Bay St. Louis; Messrs. Gerald and Ernest Baron, sons of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Baron, formerly of Bay St. Louis, but now residents of Harahan, La.

DIZZY Lost Appetite

Mr. M. F. Fink, of Harrisburg, N. C., says: "It must have been fully twenty-five years ago that I began taking Black-Draught regularly. I was in town one day, and while talking to a friend I stooped over to pick up something. When I straightened up, I felt dizzy. I spoke to him about this and how I had not felt like eating. My friend told me to take some Black-Draught. I knew my mother had used it and so I bought a package. When I got home, I took a good, big dose, and the next night, another. In a few days I felt much better. A good many times I have had this dizziness and a bad taste in my mouth, or headaches, and then I take Black-Draught and get better. I do not have to take it very often. We buy from five to seven packages a year." Try it!

NORMA TALMADGE TELLS HOW SHE FIRST BROKE INTO MOVIES

Comes to A. & G. Theatre Sunday and Monday Nights in "The Dove."

By NORMA TALMADGE
(Who comes to the A. & G. Theatre Sunday and Monday in "The Dove")
When I was fourteen, I decided to have a career; it was so easy in day dreams, like playing on a window-pane. Almost any piece of music seems easy to play until one reaches the piano. I started gaily on one autumn afternoon to the Vitaphone studio, but the nearer I got to the studio, the further away it seemed. The wall which surrounded it grew higher and higher. It reminded me of the Chinese wall we had been reading about in school—and that didn't make it any easier. When I got inside, all my prepared speech flew from my mind.

"What can you do?" said the casting director.
"I can recite," I murmured in such a faint voice that I wondered if it was mine.
"Recite?" he said, in surprise, and suddenly it struck me as funny.
I went through the usual formalities of registering, name, height, weight, coloring, age, etc. I was told that they would send for me. A week later they asked me to come to the studio to have a test made. While I had never been in pictures and therefore had no experience in acting before the camera, I had passed the test. In the early days in moving pictures, when they were still being exhibited in stores and make-shift theaters, part of the entertainment was usually an illustrated song. Colored slides would be thrown on the movie screen, rather like the old magic lantern pictures. I posed for some of these songs.

Last winter, one evening, after the theatre, I "swapped beginnings" with Irving Berlin. He was telling of his days on the lower East Side in New York, and I was telling him of my past when I was an illustration for songs. Of all the songs there was only one that I remember and I told him it was called "Stop, Stop, Stop." "Yes," he answered, "I know the song. I wrote it."

That work taught me something. I learned the value of poise. The value of expressions.
A few days after the test they sent for me to join the Vitaphone Stock Company. I shall never forget the excitement that that letter caused me to the last day I live. I used to go to the studio early in the morning, in fact I was so eager that I arrived at the same time as the scrub-woman. I was there for a week but during that time I learned a lot about make-up and got in the atmosphere by watching the others.

At last I got a small part—but it was a great part to me. When they asked me what I wanted I told them I thought I was worth $18 a week. I had decided upon this sum, as it

MANY OPERATIONS SATURDAY SCHOOL CHILDREN AT CLINIC

Tonsils Removed From 18 Children—Under Direction Co. Health Officer.

A very successful clinic was held in Bay St. Louis Saturday under the direction of Dr. C. M. Shipp, county health officer, as the second clinic in which children of the county had physical defects corrected under the favorable arrangements made by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors recently through Dr. Shipp. Eighteen children from Napoleon, Lee Town and Caesar communities underwent tonsillar operations at the clinic Saturday. The local specialist performed the operations. Miss Mayme O'Dom, through the community clubs of the county, assisted in transportation. Three nurses, the Misses Semineaux, of New Orleans, and Miss Sharp, of Gulfport, aided in the work and a large number of Bay St. Louis and county women assisted.

Mrs. A. E. Day loaned two cots and sent hot coffee to those nursing the patients and furnished lodging for the night to two mothers. Mrs. Shelby Lee aided throughout the day and gave lunches and beds to several patients. Mrs. George Cuevas, of Exclusive Shop brought her auto and transferred mothers to and from lunch and also sent coffee. The Methodist Missionary Society sent a case of Coca-Cola and ice cream for all the children. Sheriff Joe Jones, under sheets and blankets from the jury dormitory at the courthouse.

The children undergoing operations Saturday and their ages follow: David Baker, 10; Velma Baker, 6; Dana Murphy, 7; Raymond Moton, 5; Athanas Cuevas, 9; Elvira La Fontaine, 6; Forrest Trivacia, 5; Vera Smith, 7; Marian Fayre, 6; Francis Fayre, 6; Landry Lee, 12; Magdaline Lee, 11; Helen Lee, 13; Eleanor Dean, 13; Ola Lee, 9; Cullie Lee, 7; Nancy Murphy, 14; Leota Phelps, 16.

It is probable that another clinic will be held in July, Dr. Shipp stated, but arrangements for this have not yet been made.

Conducting Camp.

Miss Mayme O'Dom, county demonstration agent, left the Bay Monday afternoon for Sellers Vocational school where she opened a camp for the 4-H club girls of that community, using the home economics building on the school grounds for the camp. Wednesday she opened a similar camp at Caesar. Ladies of the Women's Home Demonstration clubs of these communities assisted in the conduct of these camps which are similar to those Miss O'Dom has been conducting in all communities of the county.

seemed so important and large to me. I was greatly surprised when I got my envelope for $18 a week. I have never felt so rich since that day.

TRAVELERS REPORT OLD SPANISH TRAIL IN VERY BAD CONDITION

Frequent Rains Have Played Havoc—Heavy Traffic Increasing.

Unanimous complaint comes from the traveling public using the Old Spanish Trail between Pearl River and at a point near Bay St. Louis, due principally to heavy and frequent rains of past few weeks and to heavy added traffic including freight and other buses of heavy weight.

As a result week-end travel from New Orleans to the Coast has suffered somewhat and unless this condition is remedied by the State Highway department, having the responsibility in charge the high peak expected at this time of the year will not materialize.

There is no doubt the remedy lies in a concrete road, and it is hoped the State will come to the rescue.

The concrete road seems to be the only solution for all highways and other roads, and it is evident this will not be long in forthcoming.

Annual Short Course Postponed Until July

The annual 4-H Girls Demonstration Short Course for Hancock county, which was to have been held this week, has been postponed until July. Miss Mayme O'Dom, demonstration agent, announces. This postponement was caused by the poor conditions of the roads and bridges, making it difficult for girls from all parts of the county to attend, and because the crops in the rural sections are needing work because of the heavy rains and the farmers are behind with their work, the girls needed on the farm for aid.

The date of the short course will be announced next week. Miss O'Dom stated, as soon as arrangements can be effected with all communities.

WEBB-HORTON

Very lovely was the wedding Wednesday night, 8 o'clock of Miss Jean Horton, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Horton, of Front street, Bay St. Louis, and Mr. Roland K. Webb, son of Mr. Harry Webb, of New Orleans. The wedding being solemnized at Christ Episcopal church, Bay St. Louis, the Rev. Robert Grubb, rector, saying the impressive single ring ceremony, in the presence of a large number of friends from the Coast and New Orleans.

The ceremony was charmingly decorated for the occasion with palms, potted ferns and baskets of white blossoms in which gladioli predominated, carrying out the green and white color motif. The candles arranged in suitable fashion cast a pleasing glow over the wedding party assembled about the altar.

Miss Horton was handsome in her beautiful bride's gown of white crepe satin with bouffant skirt and modish waist with corsage of orange blossoms. She wore a magnificent real lace wedding veil from Venice, and carried a shower bouquet of red roses, valley lilies and plumosa ferns. A part of the wedding ensemble was the lace handkerchief carried by the bride's mother at her wedding and the prayer book, owned by the bride's aunt, Mrs. C. E. Fenner, which is a family heirloom.

Miss Horton was attended by three lovely maids, Miss Laura Fenner, Miss Virginia Fenner and Miss Cora Bush, all of New Orleans, a charming maid of honor, Miss Mary Bailey, of Opelika, Ala., and a gracious matron of honor, Mrs. C. E. Fenner, of New Orleans and a dainty little flower girl, Miss Marie Violette Arceneaux, of Bay St. Louis. All attendants of the bride wore gowns of white indestructible voile with green slip and carried pale yellow gladioli.

Mrs. James Sylvester, of the Bay, presided at the organ, playing for the processional and recessional the famous wedding marches of Mendelssohn and Lohengrin.

Miss Horton was given away by her father, Dr. C. L. Horton. Mr. Webb was attended as best man by his father, Mr. Harry Webb, of New Orleans. His ushers were Messrs. Sam and Frank Stone, of New Orleans, and George Horton, of Bay St. Louis, the latter the brother of the bride.

After the wedding a delightful reception was tendered the bride at the home of her parents when a large number of friends called. Mrs. Horton, wearing a gown of blue georgette, with members of the bridal party, greeted the guests. The reception rooms had been effectively dressed with daisies and Southern smilax. The many lovely gifts of silver, lace, glass, linens, personal and home gifts were displayed and much complimented. An especially handsome gift of antique jewelry was presented the bride by a friend. The wedding cake was cut by the bride and cake, punch and cream were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Webb left by motor for an undetermined destination and after July 5, will be at home at 7414 Burthe street, New Orleans.

The bride is the daughter of one of the prominent physicians of the Bay, who has resided here with his family for the past fourteen years, coming originally from New Orleans. She is a graduate of the New Orleans Conservatory of Music in voice.
